

Attack on Ike's Military Policies Is Broadened

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic attack on President Eisenhower's military policies was broadened today to include charges that the administration was playing politics in the defense field.

The Democrats kept up their complaints that the Defense Department was underrating Soviet missile power. They said Central Intelligence Director Allen W. Dulles' closed-door testimony Friday supported their claim that Russia was far ahead of this country in war rockets.

To this were added these new allegations:

—Sen. J. William Fulbright (D- Ark.) said it was not surprising that the Republicans could raise seven million dollars at their 83 campaign kickoff banquets Wednesday "in view of the 40 odd billions of defense contracts to be let to our big businessmen."

—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a Democratic presidential contender, charged it was "unethical and beneath the dignity" of the administration to use Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. and other top Pentagon officials as speakers at the nationwide GOP dinners.

—Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.) charged that half the current defense spending was "pump priming" designed to "keep everybody happy until the next election." He said to much spending was aimed at giving various defense contractors and geographic locations their share of the military outlay.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.), meanwhile, suggested sarcastically that all the Democratic presidential aspirants who have criticized U. S. defenses form a "committee on the conduct of the cold and hot war." He said attacks on the defense program were a reflection on Eisenhower.

—Rep. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said after Dulles' testimony to the combined Senate Space and Preparedness committees that the intelligence chief had credited Russia with more missile power than an earlier appraisal by Gates.

—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, chairman of the space and preparedness groups, said after Dulles' appearance that "for 20 years we have believed the only safe place was first place. Now there seems to be an effort to advance the theory that second place is safe too."

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), another Democratic presidential possibility, said Dulles' testimony supported "without reservation" his charge that Russia would have a missile advantage of more than 3 to 1 in the not too distant future.

Local Man Killed in Auto Wreck

Autrey D. Castleberry, aged 27, was killed early today in an auto accident just beyond the Red River bridge at Fulton. Details were not immediately known.

Mr. Castleberry, an insurance salesman, had lived here only a short time. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Corning Seeks a Radio Station

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eulis W. Cochran of Corning, Ark., has asked the Federal Communications Commission for a license to operate a daytime radio station at Dardanelle, Ark.

Cochran asked for assignment on 1420 kilocycles and for a power limitation of 500 watts.

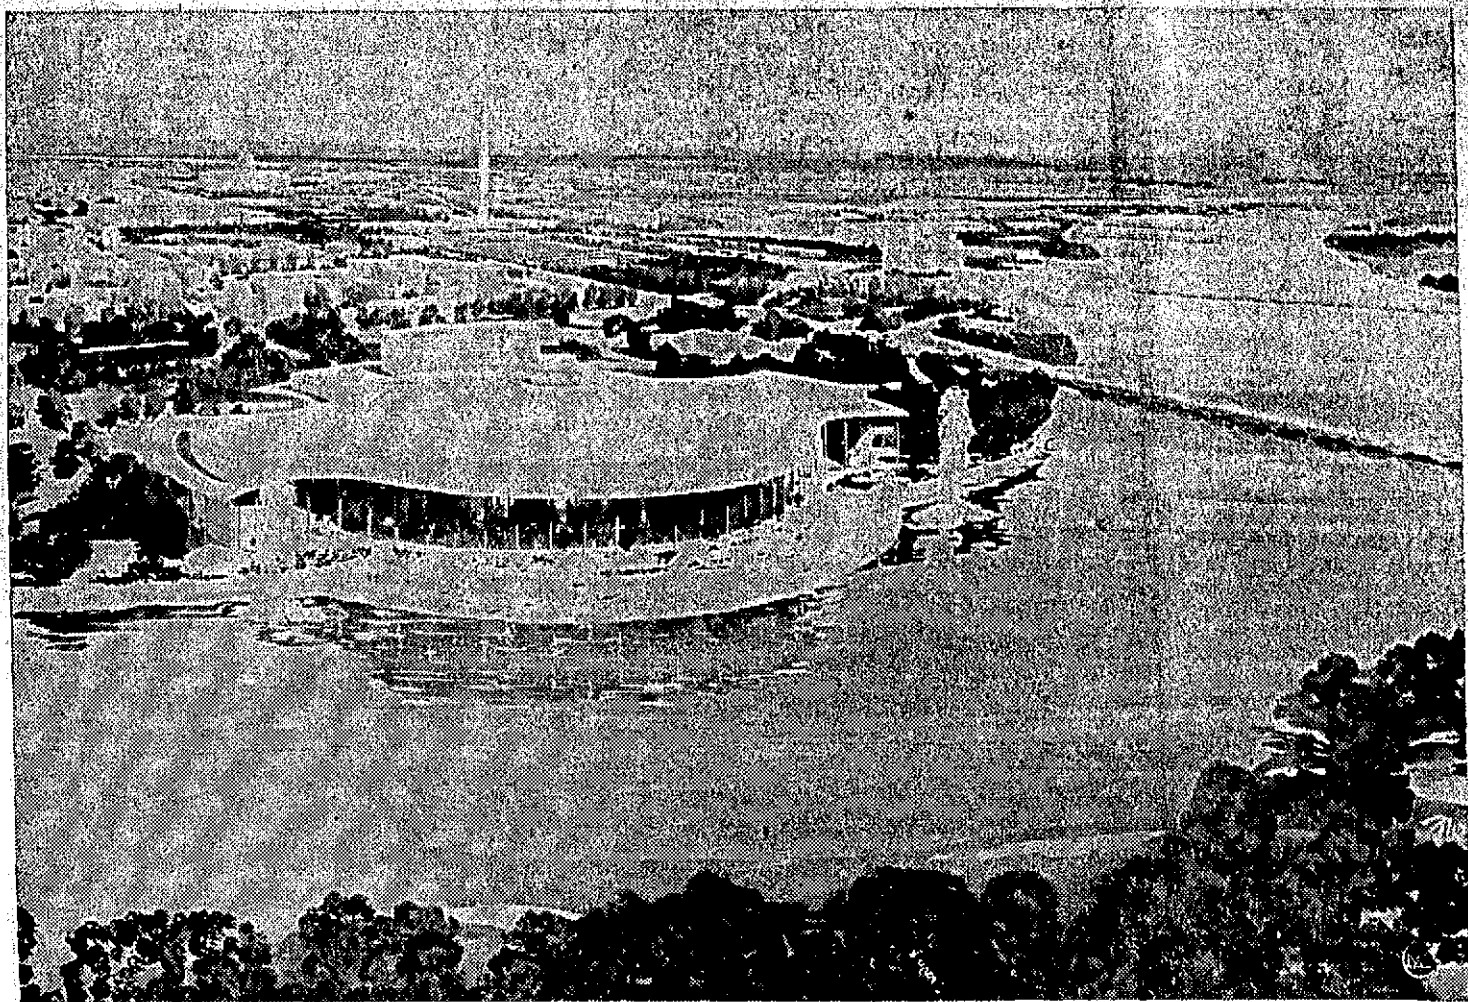

Walnut Hill Exchange Told to Cut Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Public Service Commission has ordered the Walnut Hill Telephone Co. to cut its rates to subscribers in Lewisville, Bradley, Mineral Springs and adjacent areas by $10,000 to $11,000 a year.

The order, issued yesterday, said the company was earning excessive profits. The commission said the firm may ask for a review of the rates after it converts the Lewisville exchange to dial system.

Weather

Fair to partly cloudy today and tonight.

NATIONAL CULTURAL CENTER—For 160 years Washington, D.C., has been the political center of the nation. Now, fulfilling the dream of George Washington when he commissioned the designing of the capital, it will house a national cultural center. An act of Congress—the National Cultural Center Act—has authorized the building of a huge complex of auditoriums on the Potomac River as a monument to America's cultural maturity. Drawing above shows how the completed structure will look. To be built with voluntary contributions on a 10-acre site donated by the federal government, the center will house a concert hall, opera house, theater, two smaller auditoriums and a central grand salon.

Bomb Smashes Window of a Synagogue

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A bomb smashed 51 windows Thursday night in a new synagogue which earlier this month was marked by a painted swastika.

No one was injured by the explosion at Kehillah Israel Temple. The synagogue caretakers, Mr. and Mrs. Kapers Butler, were in their quarters in the building but the bomb didn't damage their apartment.

The explosion was heard over a two-mile radius of southeast Kansas City. It did not damage any other buildings.

Police Lt. Col. William M. Canaday said officers questioned a dozen teen-aged boys Thursday about the painting of a swastika on the temple Jan. 18.

The boys were picked up after a student at Southeast High School, near the synagogue, was found to have a nazi uniform, complete with the swastika armbands and a dagger with the initials "SS" on it. Canaday said all of the boys had similar armbands and claimed membership in the Nordic Reich Youth Party.

"We lectured them and let them go," said Canaday. "Now we're going to pick them up again."

He added, however, that he doubted the teen-agers were connected with the synagogue bombing, unless they were under the influence of adults.

Time Now to Put New Land in Soil Bank

The Hempstead County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office is moving into the final stages of arranging contracts with farmers to place new land in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank beginning in 1960. Feb. 1 is the final date by which all contracts are scheduled to be signed.

The county office, according to H. B. Gilbert, chairman, is in the process of notifying all remaining farmers whose applications it expects to be able to accept. Applicants who are notified are urged to make their decisions promptly so that if a contract is refused another applicant can be reached before Feb. 1.

Under the priority system in use in the conservation Reserve, priority is given to the farmer offering land at the lowest rate compared with the basic rate established for his land. Here in Hempstead County, it is expected that funds will be available to accept about 100 percent of all land which was offered for contracts. Applications for contracts for new acreage were signed last fall.

Under the Conservation Reserve, farmers contract to take land out of production for periods of 5 to 10 years. A per acre rental payment is earned for each year the contract is in effect, and the farmer can also get a cost share payment to assist in establishing approved conservation use on his Conservation Reserve land. The program began late in the 1956 crop year, and the present legal authorization for placing of land under a Conservation Reserve contract expires on Dec. 31, 1960.

Portion of Highway 70 to Be Closed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Department announced today that U.S. Highway 70 will be closed east of Forrester City next Monday night in order to allow a contractor to move some heavy equipment across the road.

The highway will be closed at Fishing Lake Bridge, a spokesman said, from midnight Monday to 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Traffic will be routed over state Highway 1 to Marianna and U.S. Highway 79 to Lehigh and vice versa.

Integration, Poll Tax Fight Continues

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate dispute over anti-poll tax measures threatened today to spread to the controversy over school integration.

An aide said Sen. Herman Tamm (D-Ga.) may inject his proposed constitutional amendment to vest exclusive control over the public schools in the states.

Such action would depend on how the situation in the senate develops.

Up for action was a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Spessard Holland (D-Fla.) to bar any state from requiring payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite to voting in congressional or presidential elections.

Holland has listed 67 senators, including Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, as co-sponsors of his amendment.

But it is opposed both by some Southern senators who contend that it would undermine states' rights and also by a bipartisan group of Northern senators who contend that only an act of Congress is necessary to wipe out the poll tax.

Five states, including Arkansas, still require payment of a poll tax for voting.

New Post Office Contract Let

WASHINGTON (AP)—A contract to build a new post office at Mountain View, Ark., has been awarded to the Postal Leasing Corp. of Kansas City.

Postmaster Gen. Arthur Summerfield said the building should be ready for use Aug. 1.

The company will construct the building and lease it to the government.

Alford's Staff Gives Him a Party

Gifts included a cigarette lighter which plays Dixie when lighted. Alford, a strong segregationist and states' rights, represents Arkansas' Fifth District.

Party guests included other congressmen from Arkansas and the South.

Horoscope Reveals That If You Have a Friend Born From Jan. 20 - Feb. 17, You're Lucky

By MARY ANITA LASETER

A horoscope has been called a sort of blueprint of a natal planet under which we are born. If that be the case, let's take the blueprint labeled Aquarius and construct the pattern characteristic to "people" born from Jan. 20 through Feb. 17.

To begin with, those people have the type of personality that is very hard to define. Why? Well, there are times when the personality and individuality blend and harmonize and other times when they do not. For instance, such a complex personality at one time is active, expressive, magnetic, interesting and even fascinating and very attractive. But look out! These folks are apt to be moody, changeable, indifferent and perhaps insolent on occasions.

On the whole, though, a person born in Aquarius is a remarkable one to meet. These owners of unusually serious minds have natural charming manners. In some situations they may be somewhat reserved or timid, but they usually create a good impression upon all they meet and can be interestingly expressive.

If you have an Aquarius friend, lucky you! They make local friends being kind and generous, often too much so for their own good. They have a humanitarian outlook on life, and seeking the welfare of others is one of their chief characteristics.

It isn't surprising that John Charles Freemont, the American explorer, Douglas MacArthur, one of America's greatest soldiers, Henry M. Stanley, British explorer of Africa and Charles A. Lindbergh, who made the first non-stop solo flight across the Atlantic, were all born under this sign, as Aquarius people possess a good degree of the spirit of adventure and pioneering.

Here's a warning to those who would argue with these folks. They are self-willed, very determined, and can be most obstinate and independent. Emotionally speaking they are sensitive and easily hurt, but their temper can range from peevishness to downright anger. Fortunately, their temper may get pretty "hot," but they "cool off" quickly, too.

No wonder their "spirit of adventure" was mentioned earlier. They have a great deal of courage, often daring to the point of rashness. Also predominant factors in their character are ambition and persistence in anything that interests them. Not only do they dream, but they have the powers to make many of their dreams come true.

These folks have an active mind which never seems to rest and keeps them always busy at something or other. They have good powers of observation, quick perception, and are "natural born students." They show good reasoning and judgment in most cases, and are among the world's most thoughtful and gracious people.

You probably know a number of people who fit into this particular pattern. Or maybe you are an Aquarius person yourself.

Sanatorium Medical Director Changes

BOONEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—T. A. Lipscomb, superintendent of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium near here, said today that Dr. H. G. Darnall had been succeeded as medical director by Dr. A. H. Smith.

Dr. Darnall has returned to private practice at Fort Smith but still visits the sanatorium weekly to perform surgery, Lipscomb said.

The superintendent said that when Dr. Darnall became medical director about two and one-half years ago he specified that he did not plan to continue permanently in the position.

Dr. Smith, who came here from Ohio about the same time that Dr. Darnall joined the staff, had been the latter's chief assistant.

Lipscomb said the change became effective Jan. 1.

Orders Probe of Beating at Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP)—A federal judge has ordered the FBI to investigate a young Negro's charges that police beat a confession out of him.

Henry Muse Hayes, 18, made the claim yesterday in pleading innocent to charge of burglary and receiving stolen property at a hearing on violation of probation charges.

Police Chief James C. MacDonald said Hayes received no rough treatment whatever. "Actually, we didn't need any confession because we caught the boy in the stolen car," he added.

Hayes said officers "beat me two days and two nights. Every time I dozed off they started on me again. They did it in shifts. Finally I signed a confession."

Judge M. S. Boyd reset the hearing for Feb. 5.

Hayes was arrested in 1958 and convicted of driving a stolen car from here to West Memphis, Ark. He was sentenced to three years in prison and placed on probation.

He was picked up again last July when officers arrested five Negro youths riding in a stolen car. It was in this case that Hayes claimed he was beaten.

He was sentenced to a year on the penal farm. When released last year, he was placed on probation. On Jan. 6 he was claimed by U.S. marshals for probation violation.

At the hearing, Hayes said he didn't know the car was stolen. He said he pleaded guilty at the trial because the public defender told him he didn't have a chance, in view of his signed statement.

Driver Files for Renomination

Driver seeks a second term.

French Army in Algiers Loyal to DeGaulle

By ANDREW BOROWICZ

ALGERS (AP)—The French army command in Algiers showed its loyalty to President De Gaulle today by ending up the home guard backbone of the insurgent forces in the embattled capital.

There was no immediate indication whether the guardsmen who have been manning the insurgent barricades would heed the call-up.

Reports from Oran, big seaport 220 miles southwest of Algiers, said home guardsmen and militia there had proclaimed loyalty to De Gaulle.

Insurgent leaders in Algiers spouted new defiance of De Gaulle but gave no indication what steps they would take.

Calling the home guard to duty was seen as a maneuver by the army to break the back of the insurgent movement in stricken Algiers.

As dawn broke, few people appeared in the streets and quiet prevailed in the capital.

Behind the barricades the insurgents stayed doggedly in position.

The rightwing insurgent junta—branded by De Gaulle as "guilty ones who dream of being usurers" of power—met early today in a barricaded stronghold in downtown Algiers to consider his demand they bow to his policy of self-determination for Algeria as the supreme commander, who carries "the destiny of the nation."

De Gaulle offers the peace of the brave to the rebels (Muslim Nationalist rebels) and threatens us with punishment. An insurgent leader said bitterly. "We have to defend our skin, that's all."

De Gaulle, in his TV-radio broadcast Friday night, accused leaders of the uprising of speaking the words of liars.

Insurgent leaders showed no surprise at De Gaulle's reaffirmation of his policy of self-determination for Algeria's Muslims after returned to power in the embattled territory.

"We know he is stubborn and so are we," one of them said. De Gaulle hinted that he had several methods up his sleeve to get the insurgents out of the barricades.

"The means to employ so that force remains on the side of law may be of various kinds," he said cryptically.

Addressing himself to every soldier in Algeria, De Gaulle said in measured terms, "Your duty is to insure. I have given and I do give the order."

De Gaulle is obviously banking on his enormous personal prestige to bring order to Algeria. Unless this prestige manages to penetrate the ranks of the half-million army in Algeria, any orders he gives will be meaningless.

Mr. K Keeps Promise to Family

CHICAGO (AP)—The Lomas family reunited through the personal intervention of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, today began making up for 10 lost years.

"They feel strange but close to us," said Paulus Leonas of his two children, Regina, 20, and her brother, Tomas, 17, who arrived in Chicago Thursday from Soviet-controlled Lithuania.

It was the first time the children had seen their parents since 1944, when Leonas and his wife fled Lithuania in front of the advancing Soviet army. The children had since lived with their grandparents.

"This was little time for getting reacquainted Thursday night at the Lomas home, where scores of friends gathered to celebrate until nearly midnight.

"There were gifts for Tomas and Regina from friends and from strangers. 'So many I couldn't count them,' said the elated father.

Lithuanian songs were sung with solemnity and vigor. Lithuanian delicacies were served. There were champagne toasts, speeches, telephone calls, telegrams, laughter and tears.

Moscow had rejected all pleas by Leonas to get his children to the United States until he met Khrushchev in Moscow last day before and snatched them out of the U.S. Khrushchev instructed an aide to arrange the reunion. But Leonas, who is a real estate operator, was doubtful.

"It was too good to believe," he said. "Could this miracle happen?"

It happened Thursday at Chicago's Midway Airport, where some 200 persons cheered as the Lomas family was reunited.

It's just like coming home," said Tomas, in Lithuanian.

Earth Tremor Shakes Dinley, Tenn.

No damage was reported, just the usual uneasy sound of rattling dishes and windows.

It was the second tremor here in little more than a month and one of many over the past few years.

This area lies on or near the New Madrid fault, which triggered the tremendous earthquakes of 1811-12, before the area was populated.

The strongest quake in recent years was 20 years ago.

It jarred doors open, tumbled canned goods off store shelves and left a few homes with cracked walls and foundations.

Atty. General Rapped by Health Dept.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Health Department doesn't like the way the attorney general's office is handling its legal affairs.

Atty. General Bruce Bennett contends his office is doing the best it can since it "doesn't run the courts."

So began a mild controversy on Capitol Hill yesterday.

Dr. J. T. Herron, state health officer, rebuked the attorney general while telling the state Board of Health he would like to see the 1961 Legislature appropriate funds so the Health Department could have its own legal staff.

Herron remarked that his office is getting "little close cooperation" from the attorney general. He mentioned specifically a case pending in Pulaski Chancery Court which he said the department is anxious to have tried.

The doctor said the case, in which an injunction was issued to prohibit the department from banning sale of certain dangerous or slide devices, was filed last summer. He said a letter was written to Bennett several months ago asking about the case and Bennett replied that opposing parties were trying to agree on a trial date.

"But now we haven't had any action out of the thing," Herron said.

"The case was set for trial Jan. 18," Bennett retorted. "It was postponed because of the plaintiff's attorney is State Sen. Max Howell (of Little Rock) and there was a conflict with the special session of the Legislature."

Bennett said Dr. Herron was told of the delay and the reasons for it.

As for getting the case reset for trial, Bennett said, "I don't run the court. It's up to the judge to decide when cases are to be tried."

"The board did not contact Bennett in the matter. Instead it instructed Dr. W. R. Alstad of Little Rock, its news president, to write Bennett again about the case."

Several state agencies have their own legal staffs. The attorney general's office handles all litigation for those which do not.

Bennett said the Health Department had sent "only two or three cases" to his office in the three years he has been attorney general.

Bennett is a candidate for governor.

Temperance Queen Takes to Drink

Barbara was chosen a couple of months ago by the Bristol chapter of the Band of Hope—a teetotal organization—to be its queen at a national temperance rally in May.

"But I had my first drink at a Christmas party," she said, "and since then I have had alcohol several times."

"I now feel that drinking alcohol is not wrong unless carried to excess. So I have resigned from the Band of Hope and sent back my crown and robes."

Plot Against Trujillo Foiled

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Dominican exiles here said today plotters apparently were going to assassinate Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo at a cattle show Jan. 21, but their plan was discovered the day before and smashed.

Naming Washington reports of a plot against the Dominican dictator, exiles said they had got information from travelers who arrived here from the Dominican capital, Ciudad Trujillo.

Among those identified by the exiles as under arrest are Jose Teller Jose Hassin Asela March, Jose Fernandez Camarero, and Ramon Caceres Troncoso.

All but Caceres Troncoso, an engineer, were identified as "doctors" which by Latin usage would mean they are physicians, lawyers, or other professional men.

Business Zooms During First Month of Year

By JACK LEFLER

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Business zoomed this week, propelled by high-gear operations in the retail trade, automobiles, steel and construction industries.

The rosy picture painted for business in 1960 by economic forecasters was off to a good start as the first month came to an end.

But the stock market had a rough time. In the fourth consecutive week of decline, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks went down $6.70 to $216.70. This was the most severe fall since the week ending Oct. 11, 1957.

Stock sales volume was 14,005,400 shares compared with 14,219,000 last week. Bond sales amounted to $26,494,000, new value compared with $27,310,000.

The weather brightened in most areas, and brought shoppers swarming back to the stores, where cut-price clearance sales still were going on.

Dollar volume jumped three to seven per cent over a year ago. Interest was high in women's winter clothing, furniture, television sets, draperies and linens.

Sales of new passenger cars moved slightly ahead of a year ago. Automobile manufacturers and dealers were ready for what they hoped would soon prove a greater demand for the new models.

This week's estimate production of 175,000 cars brought a new January record of about 600,000. A record February output of 725,000 cars was scheduled.

Dealers have plenty of cars on hand—715,000, a 30 day supply at the rate cars have been selling.

The auto industry's heavy demand for steel kept the steel industry humming as it has been ever since strikers went back to work. This week's production was an estimated 2,717,000 tons, or 95.4 per cent of capacity.

Mental Health Discussed by 4-H Women

A better understanding of mental illness was the topic for discussion at each Home Demonstration Club in Hempstead County during January. The club women learned that at least 17,000,000 Americans are suffering from a mental or emotional disorder.

This year, about 300,000 people will become mental hospital patients for the first time.

Mental illness takes a large toll among children and teenagers, an estimated 10% of public school children are emotionally disturbed and need mental guidance.

The Hempstead women learned that, as citizens, they need to better understand this type of illness in order to remove the stigma which has been placed on the person and family with a mental disorder.

Mental illness is a story about people some of the HD women know personally. They may be nervous people, moody people, lonely people and people who have broken under strains of living.

When one cannot love or work, or feel a purpose in life he may have symptoms of being mentally ill.

The women recognized the fact that all have had bad days and bad weeks but when it runs into bad months and bad years there is

U. S. to Find Out Aims of Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top State Department official said today the United States will not go to the summit meeting with great expectations, but does intend to probe Soviet aims.

Assistant Secretary of State Andrew H. Cordell said also it looks as if the Chinese Communists are unhappy about Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev going into talks with the Western leaders.

Berling said a series of top level East-West conferences are likely because one meeting alone cannot solve world problems. He forecast summit meetings continuing for years.

Berling, in charge of public affairs in the State Department, spoke to the Women's Forum on National Security.

He referred to the parley between President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Mac-

Posts Bond for False Pretense Charge

MARSHALL, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Gladys Ellis, 35-year-old Monet, Mo., businesswoman charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, posted an $11,000 bond yesterday and was released from jail.

She was directed to report April 15 on the opening day of the next term of the Searey Circuit Court. No preliminary hearing has been requested and it was indicated she probably will be arraigned on April 11.

Mrs. Ellis has operated half a dozen small garment factories at communities in Missouri, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

She was arrested in Eureka Springs Jan. 20.

Prosecutor John B. Driver charged Mrs. Ellis with mortgaging property she did not own in addition to the false pretense charges. He said she gave the Marshall Industrial Committee mortgages on plant machinery to secure a loan. After the plant folded, Driver said, it was learned that a Tennessee firm held title-retaining notes on the equipment.

Illegal Selling Charge Beaten

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Three members of the Russellville School Board have been acquitted in municipal court on charges of illegally selling materials and supplies to the school district.

Judge William Schulze ruled yesterday that a 1933 Arkansas law under which they were charged was amended in 1949 to permit a board member to do business with the school district if he submits a low competitive bid.

Schulze said the prosecution failed to prove there were no competitive bids in the sales concerned.

The board members are Shelby Osborne, owner of a building supply company; Blynn Howell, a service station operator, and Kenneth Ketchide, connected with a wholesale grocery firm.

Warrants for their arrest were obtained by nine members of the Northwest School Citizens Committee, which is disputing with the board over the proposed location of a new school.

Man's Body Found Near Railway
PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—The body of Charles Shelby, 48, of Paragould, was found near a grade crossing on a county road about two miles south of Paragould early today.

Shelby, who lost a leg in a railroad accident several years ago, apparently had been killed by a train.

The body was discovered by the crew of a southbound Cotton Belt freight train.

Shelby's automobile was parked near the tracks. It had not been struck.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Bratton said head injuries apparently caused Shelby's death.

UN May Get the Algerian Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today talks have been going on here on the possibility of putting the question of Algerian independence before the U.N. Security Council for an extraordinary session of the General Assembly.

They reported that Abdel Kader Chanderli, New York representative of the rebel Algerian provisional government, had been consulting Asian and African delegates for the past two days on these two ideas.

Says Kissing Lost Art in America

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Kissing has become a lost art in America. It began to decline the year we turned 40 and has plunged downhill rapidly ever since.

Every man's kissing history is roughly the same. It begins as an ordeal, gradually becomes a pleasure and a joy, and winds up as a form of feminine insult.

The ordeal time is when you are an infant. Then you are at the mercy of every loving, moist-mouthed aunt.

Kissing isn't much better when you first start school. Big girls in kindergarten develop a mania for chasing smaller boys, throwing them on the ground and kissing them. The whole business seems pretty silly to the boy.

But by the time a fellow gets into high school he develops a sudden interest in the matter. He discovers kissing is not only bearable, it can become a form of mutual fun.

Through college and up to his 40th birthday a fellow enjoys kissing as a mainly art — particularly when strange girls at cocktail parties come up and buss him unexpectedly — because this makes his wife so jealous.

But by the time he is 45 the situation has changed dramatically.

He overhears his wife whispering to some sweet young thing at a party: "Why don't you go up and surprise my husband with a kiss? The poor thing. He doesn't have much fun anymore."

Even worse are the wives of friends who in the old days used to like to lure you into the pantry at neighborhood parties for a bit of innocent necking. After 45 they become lips that pass in the night.

As you step up to kiss them, fondly remembering the days of yore, they turn at the last moment and give you a quick absent-minded peck on the cheek.

That is the worst insult of all to a middle-aged man — to be kissed on the cheek by another man's middle-aged wife.

Here you are certainly entitled to revenge.

If she is smaller than you, stand on tiptoe so that she kisses you on your Adam's apple instead of your cheek.

But no matter what you do, you might as well face up to it. Kissing has become a lost art in America — at least as far as men can determine.

Ah, well, why mourn? After all, as every man over 45 knows, not too well, the world is being taken over by the amateurs, in every field.

Cites Damage by Many Blackbirds
JACKSON, Ark. (AP)—Rep. E. C. Gathings (D-Ark.) says blackbirds wintering in east Arkansas are so numerous and hungry they may cause small grain crop damage of $7,000,000 a year.

Gathings said the blackbird problem "is so big in scope that local interests cannot be expected to solve it without assistance from other sources."

Gathings said he was certain science could help settle blackbirds to less expensive food than rice, corn, grain and sorghums.

He cited one anti-blackbird method found by a farmer who used to have to replant his rice quite often.

"He came upon the idea of treating rice seed with aldrin and fungicide and he found that he obtained amazing results," said Gathings.

"Five of his neighbors who planted treated rice seed also reported that their fields were untouched by the birds."

Gathings said the farmer's experience indicates that additional research in the field would be well worthwhile.

Rail Union Set to Plunge to Shutdown
CLEVELAND (AP)—The 1,100 delegates to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen convention here were ready today to plunge into the showdown fight between W. P. Kennedy and William J. Weil for the presidency of the 200,000-member union.

Supporters of Kennedy, head of the union since 1949, sought a vote at today's session of the convention, which opened Jan. 4.

Backers of the 31-year-old Weil, who has been general secretary-treasurer of the union since 1949, hope to hold off the vote until next week and in the interval attack administration of the 67-year-old Kennedy.

The Weil forces say younger leadership is needed to provide more aggressiveness and militancy.

Rev. Gene Thompson
SPECIAL REVIVAL SERVICES will be held at the Southside Assembly beginning Sunday, January 31st with, Evangelist Gene Thompson. The Rev. Thompson is an outstanding Gospel Musician who will sing your favorite Gospel Songs. Services will be held each evening except Saturday at 7:30 p.m. His interesting powerful preaching has lifted hundreds from sin to the Saviour... to peace and happiness. Gospel Music, preaching and worship will highlight each service. The Rev. S. Joseph Geno, pastor invites the public to attend in the church where everyone is welcome.

Faubus Going Only as a Democrat

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that when he goes to Los Angeles for an April 1 speech he would do so "as a Democrat and not as a candidate for president."

But he added that he also was going "as a citizen free to speak my mind."

His news conference comment followed disclosure that William P. Gale, a retired Army colonel and now a Hollywood securities dealer, had started a campaign to boost Faubus for the presidency.

Faubus said today that he had been invited to Los Angeles by four groups.

He said he knew that one of these was backing him for president.

Faubus wouldn't comment on whether he would be receptive to urging that he try for the Democratic nomination at the national party convention at Los Angeles in July.

"I don't think I will even talk about things like that because I don't think there is any likelihood of any such thing happening," Faubus said.

When administrative assistant Rolia Fitch announced earlier this week that Faubus would speak at Los Angeles, he described the scheduled meeting as a states rights gathering.

He didn't mention any Faubus for president angle.

Mrs. Murrah Honored

Mrs. Buddy Murrah, a recent bride, was honored with a shower Monday night at the Assembly of God Church. Hostesses were Mrs. W. L. Morris, Mrs. Bill O'Rourke, Mrs. Tip White, Mrs. Bernice Callicott, Mrs. Dawson Ogleby, Miss Marie Hines and Mrs. Forrest Dickerson.

The honoree was presented a corsage of white carnations. Decorations were in the Valentine motif. On the wall back of the gift table was a large red heart inscribed with the names of the bride and groom and the date of their wedding with streamers holding "I do" words.

Mrs. W. L. Morris directed games and the winners were Mrs. Katherine Kalba and Mrs. June Brown.

Cold drinks and cup cakes were served to forty-eight guests from a table covered in white and decorated with red and white flowers and candles.

Wesleyan Guild Has Study
The third study on "Luke's Portrait of Christ" of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church was held on Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Alfred D. Black.

Mrs. N. R. Nelson, president, presided. Lessons from the study were taught by Miss Sue Martin. Mrs. R. Earl Hambricht and Mrs. M. D. Tipton.

Coffee and cookies were served during the social hour.

The first study will be at the regular meeting of the Guild on Monday night at the home of Mrs. Roy Box.

Mrs. Harrell Hines WMS Circle 2 Hostess
Circle 2, WMS of the First Baptist Church met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Harrell Hines with nine members present and a guest, Miss Marjorie Hite.

Mrs. A. R. Underwood chairman presided and Mrs. Al Plyler gave the opening prayer. Mrs. Hines presented the program on "Render Unto Caesar." Others taking part were Mrs. Wilburn Willis, Mrs. Plyler and Mrs. Underwood who voiced the closing prayer.

A dessert course and coffee was served by the hostess.

Rev. W. R. Woodell attended an Arkansas Baptist State Evangelistic Conference in Little Rock Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Delores Escarre has returned to Hendrix College, Conway after a holiday visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Escarre.

DOROTHY DIX

A Broken Heart — Not the First One!

Dear Dorothy Dix: My 16-year-old daughter, a senior in high school, is going with a boy in her class. He doesn't like her any more. During the time they were going steady, she was a well-adjusted teen-ager, belonged to church groups, girl scouts and the Y.W.C.A. and got high grades at school. Now she spends her time crying and writing morbid poetry. She never goes to "gang" parties because he is there with someone else. Her marks have dropped. She barely eats and doesn't care what we do to punish her. The doctor gave her vitamins but that doesn't help. She has lost contact with friends, despises school and comes home crying. Her girl friends try to help but she refuses to speak to anyone. I heard her old boy friend is mean to her in school. The situation grows worse each day. Please advise me. — A Worried Mother

Dear Worried Mother: Let's face it. Your daughter has sunk into this state of demoralized futility because the boy she idealized proved a strawman. This blow to her heart and pride is fast becoming an obsession. She'll continue to be tragic unless you take her away. New surroundings, new faces, is the antidote. Be understanding but don't baby her. She's got to grow up. This is a hard experience which time and change of environment alone can heal.

Four Die in Mexico Gasoline Blast

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Three big gasoline tanks exploded and burned at a government refinery in a northern suburb today, killing four workmen and causing injuries to 34.

The refinery is a big, modern plant owned by Petrolcos de Mexico, the government monopoly. It is in Atzacotalco, several miles north of the city.

Early report giving the casualties said 14 of the 34 injured were in serious conditions. Peme closed the area to outsiders and refused newsmen and photographers access to the plant.

MOP Allowed to Drop Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has tentatively approved an application of Missouri Pacific Railroad to discontinue a 23-mile branch line between Brinkley, Ark. and BB Junction, near Holly Grove, Ark.

The permit was conditioned on MoPAC's willingness to sell all or any of its line to others for continued operations.

The ICC said the Cotton Belt and Rock Island railroads have indicated they might want to buy and operate over part of the trackage at Brinkley.

Miss Betty Ligon discussed "How to Make Your Devotional More Effective."

During the recreation period games were directed by Mrs. Wayne Eley and Miss Pat Halton. Mrs. Fred Rymer was organist for the meeting and ushers were Gus Robey, Robert Erskine, Bill McDougald and James Foster.

Iced drinks and cookies were served by Mrs. Dick Stewart and Mrs. P. A. Escarre.

Other towns in the district represented at the meeting were Hope, Emmet, Blevins, Spring Hill, Mineral Springs and Nashville.

it's a responsibility. Father and mother should unite in paying for their daughter's wedding. She deserves the best they can give her at a time like this.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper. (Released By The Bell Syndicate)

Bobcats Need Overtime to Smack the Bucks

By TEDDY JONES JR.

The Hope High School Bobcats won an overtime thriller by one point, 65-64, in downing the strong Smackover Buckaroos in a 4-AA Conference basketball game at Jones Field House last night.

The Hope Juniors kept their perfect Conference record intact by soundly trouncing the young Bucks 83 to 24.

Glen Calhoun, shifty cat forward, led the Senior game with a 12 foot jump shot with five seconds left in regulation play. His two pointers tied things at 41 all, to send the game into the three minute overtime.

In the overtime Sellers hit a field goal and Black a charity toss to add three points to the Smackover total. Byron Smiley hit a field goal and free throw and Larry Vaughn a free throw to give the Cats their one point margin.

The Bucks outscored Hope from the field hitting 25 field goals to 20 for the Cats. Hope had a decided edge in the free throw scoring piling up 25 points to 14 for the visitors. Smackover led at halftime 33-21, and at the third quarter they were leading 43-36.

Sam Barker, Buck ace, fouled out early in the fourth quarter and he was soon followed by team mates Burnell, Burson, Moore and Sellers. The Cats lost Thurman and Larry Wallon via the five personal foul route.

Byron Smiley with 18 points and Gene Robinson with 16 were the games high scorers. Larry Vaughn scored 11 for Hope followed by Calhoun with 7, Thurman 6, Wal-

Finals Tonight in County Tournament

The Blevins and Spring Hill Senior boys will play for the County title tonight in the Blevins gym and the Saratoga and Blevins girls will battle it out for the girls title.

Last night Blevins senior boys blasted Saratoga 78 to 68; Saratoga senior girls downed Spring Hill 57 to 44 to go into the finals. Guernsey's Junior teams copped both titles. The Guernsey girls downed Saratoga 27 to 23 and the boys licked Blevins 44 to 33.

Car Hits a Tree, Four Persons Die

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Four persons were killed and two injured seriously early today when a car hit a big sycamore tree along a parkway drive.

Police had to use crowbars to pry open a door in the twisted wreckage.

The dead, all of whom were riding in the front seat, were Lewis Robertson, 27, Samuel Evans, 29, Ruth Peyton Bates, 25; and Virginia Shepard, 37, all of Indianapolis.

Donald Silex, 22, and Lige Miles, 23, suffered serious injuries. They live in Indianapolis.

Truck Driver Is Fatally Injured

William H. Woodward died en route to a Little Rock hospital. Survivors include his wife and three children.

Don and Bobby Erwin 2. Black and Sellers scored 13 each for Smackover and Barker tallyed 12. Tommy Moore 11 and Burnell 10.

Earl Ray Murphy again sparked the Junior Bobcats to victory scoring a season high of 25 points. David Porterfield was in the running spot with 14 followed by Dan Jones with 5, John Whitten 4, Mac McLarty and Larry Thrush 2 each, and Tony Purdie with one point.

Hope led 28-11 at halftime and increased the margin to 41-19 at the end of the third quarter. The final score Hope 53, Smackover 24.

Tommy House scored 9 points and Jerry Womack 6 to lead the Smackover Junior scorers.

Tonight the Senior boys and Junior boys journey to Magnolia to continue their conference play with the fast Magnolia Panthers.

TARS WHO KNOW ROPES TURNING TO SYNTHETICS

By WM. TAYLOR MCKEWN

If you try handling a line to a boatman today, he will probably hope it's synthetic.

The most strength for ropes that go to sea is found in the new man-made fibers.

Still the standby for pleasure boat use is manila. In sizes ranging from flag halyards to heavy hawsers, it can hold a dinghy or an ocean liner. In the past, linen lines were used by yachtsmen when superior appearance and strength were desired.

Nylons no longer mean only the first mate's stockings. Rope made from nylon can deliver from 60 to 100 per cent more strength than manila. It is rot, mildew and abrasion resistant.

It is springy, which makes it ideal for anchor lines and other uses where some stretch will absorb strains put on a boat when the water is rough. Nylon ropes can cost at least three times more than manila of the same size, but are much stronger and longer wearing.

Snail fabric of nylon has become an accepted material for spinnakers and other light sails.

Dacron is even more expensive but has additional strength and the ability to hold its length. Unlike nylon, it has very little stretch. Unlike manila it does not shrink when wet. When fitted out this spring, the sailboat man especially will select dacron lines for halyards and sheets to hold his sails where he wants them. His sails may be of dacron, too.

This synthetic's ability to hold its shape and resist mildew is convincing traditional sailors who have sworn by the natural fibers of Egyptian cotton and flax for so long.

Weaker than dacron and nylon but stronger than manila is a new entry in the field—coolyethylene. This pleasing substance can float. As a dinghy painter lowering the pram behind a larger craft it stays comfortably on the surface.

There are few experiences as embarrassing to the boatman as to pull proudly up to a gas dock and then have the dinghy behind scurry up and foul its tow line completely around the big boat's propeller. Usually this both cuts dinghy adrift and completely immobilizes the larger craft until it can be hauled or a dive rigoes down.

Polyethylene is equally useful as a tow for water skiers. Floating on the surface, and able to be plaited in bright contrasting colors, it is handy and easy to spot by the skier who has just taken a spill. Boatmen will invent many more uses for this handy line.

Ropes of mixed fibers are being made. The most recent development is a blend of nylon and flax which is woven into a rope that has great strength but will not slip on a winch like synthetics can, nor wear like natural fiber. Another new process stabilizes nylon yarn so it has less tendency to unravel when the sailor starts a splice.

Ropes for the boatman are available in every size and strength.

The lubber who moors his craft with sash cord and finds it missing has tied his hopes to an outmoded material.

THE LADY AND THE GIANT

By Clarence Budington Kelland

© 1959 by Clarence Budington Kelland. © 1959 by The South Publishing Company. Distributed by H.A. Jones.

THE STORY: Orrin Applegate learned just in time that there was fraud in connection with a person, a fraud which he was asked to handle in behalf of a boy attached to a medicine show. He promised Madame Gladie Janeway, who revealed the truth, to make an investigation.

CHAPTER GVIII

I walked downtown after breakfast, worried about the situation that confronted me. On the way I passed the Bastable Building, at Warren and Water Streets where the Cardiff Giant was being exhibited in a store. The rumor was traveling about that it was to be transported to Albany and exhibited in Geological Hall. I did not climb to my office, but continued on to the field on the outskirts of town where the medicine show was camped. The performers and employees were eating breakfast in an open-sided tent, and they did not seem to be the glamorous lot that displayed themselves to the public in the evening performances.

"Hey, rubel!" someone called warningly as I approached, and a dozen heads turned in my direction with no welcome in any face.

"Mr. Weeks," I said. "May I speak with you?"

"Certainly," he responded, and emptied his coffee cup at a draught. He threw his long legs over the wicker bench upon which he sat and strode toward me. He was a fine, understanding body of a man, almost as tall as myself, but more neatly made.

"What," Weeks asked me, extending a carefully tended hand, "brings you here so early in the morning?"

"We can," I said stoutly, "dispense with handshaking until we clear up a moot point."

His eyes narrowed and his lips formed a line under his mustache.

"Moot," he said. "Just what is moot so early in the morning?"

"Your honesty," I said directly.

Weeks hunched his shoulders and doubled his fists, and I thought he was about to strike me. "Hold your horses," I warned. "I'm pretty stout, Mr. Weeks, and the canawalers have taught me how to rattle. I'd get the best of you."

He stopped and relaxed, and then grinned almost amiably. "Maybe you'd get the best of me, son, but what if I sicked the troupe onto you?"

"Why," I said, "I'd fight until I got licked, a dozen against one. And then I'd go down to the cap and collect my own dozen and demolish your troupe and your camp and leave the place a shambles."

He studied me a moment and shrugged. "I thought," he said, "that you were one of those James Street aristocrats."

"So I am," I told him, "but I ramify."

"Very good, Applegate, you ramify. Now let's get down to this moot. What gives you the idea I'm not honest as the sun that shines?"

"Well, Mr. Weeks," I said, "there's a sort of a freak of nature going around the country. A small boy who is endowed with a peculiar physical ability. He can disjoin himself at will. He can throw out his hips or his shoulders or his knees whenever he wants to. He can pretend to fall down somebody's stairs or to be hit by somebody's horses, and it looks like a genuine and severe injury. It even passes doctor's in-

Armed Bandits Get $23,900 Payroll

NEW YORK (AP)—Two armed bandits held up two guards and seized a $23,900 payroll outside the American Can Co. in Brooklyn today. Gunfire seriously wounded both guards.

The guards appeared at the plant in a Brink's armored truck. As they began walking into the plant with the payroll, two men appeared. One announced a stick-up.

Shots were fired and the two guards fell to the ground. They were taken to Israel Zion Hospital.

Police said the bandits made their escape in a waiting black sedan which had a third man at the wheel.

The guards were identified as Leo Dolan, 57, of Dumont, N.J., and William Feeney, 56, of New York. Dolan suffered a neck wound, and Feeney was struck in the shoulder by a bullet.

Flu Closes Schools at Siloam Springs

SILLOAM SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—An outbreak of influenza has resulted in a temporary closing of public schools here.

School officials shut down operations yesterday at noon and tentatively plan to reopen the schools Monday.

A total of 252 students and 17 faculty members in the 1,300-pupil system were down with flu.

John Brown University here remained open.

The closings followed a shutdown for the same reason at Dardanelle earlier this week.

Schools at Dardanelle also are due to reopen Monday.

No other town in Arkansas has reported public school closings because of flu, but two parochial schools at Fort Smith dismissed classes temporarily.

State Health officials say there is no flu epidemic in Arkansas although a high number of cases occurred, particularly in the north-west portion.

Pilotless Plane Crashes, Two Die

MILLBROOK, Ala. (AP)—An elderly couple was killed Thursday night when a pilotless T33 jet training plane crashed into their rural farm home and set it on fire.

The victims were Mayhew Long, about 70, a farmer, and his wife, Louise, about 65. They were burned to death when the single-engine craft plunged to earth and ricocheted into their five-room frame dwelling which was destroyed by the flames.

The pilot, Lt. Col. R. H. Turner, crashed Andrews Air Force Base, Md., parachuted safely from the stricken plane and landed about a mile and a half from the crash scene. He was not injured.

Turnquist, who was alone in the plane, had stopped to refuel at nearby Maxwell Air Force Base and was en route to Randolph AFB, Tex.

Millbrook is about 10 miles north of Montgomery.

Mrs. Eisenhower to Skip Tour

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—On advice of her doctor Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower has cancelled plans to accompany the President on his trip to South America next month.

Announcing this today, White House press secretary James C. Haggerty told newsmen the First Lady "is not ill."

Haggerty said Mrs. Eisenhower's physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, feels that the forthcoming 10-day tour of four South American countries would be too wearing for her.

The President is in the Palm Springs area for a weekend of golf. Mrs. Eisenhower accompanied him west as far as Denver Wednesday. She is visiting her ailing mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, and plans to return to Washington with her husband Monday.

DEEP YEARNING

...for God, or is it hero-worship, or is it a desire to be shown the way? Is it a dream? Well, heroes are God's occasion for awakening in His children a yearning to be one. Dreams are the doorsteps up which one must climb to reach this higher elevation. Be it hero-worship or a longing for God, it is his dream and a child is at his best when he dreams. His dreams are his prayers. God and your son, together, can do great things. But they can do better if a father joins God and his son in the dream-prayer. Here a father meets, face-to-face, one of the finer experiences of life... his own son in fervent prayer. Scenes like this cause a father to be interested in things that have to do with life rather than just a living. A prayer life is the result of church teaching and good raising... has your child learned to pray??? To be good and kind and patient are fine but add church attendance to the list and you'll have the ingredients which go into every good man.
